Bugs:
- When user types in domain.com/post.html, they are still able to arrive at the page and make a blank post without clicking on Make a Post.
- When user arrives at domain.com/post.html without clicking on Make a Post, they'll add another instance to database for that location. Therefore, the markers will be stacked.
- Posting comments won't appear immediately
- Photo thumbnails won't appear immediately after uploading neither.
- When a user signs up for an account, they will not be alerted if their sign up was successful or not.
- Users can navigate to any specific page as long as they know the domain.com/domain.html
- The inner pages (dashboard.html, map.html, etc…) will appear for a split of seconds, then it'll redirect them to index.html if the users are not logged in.
- Filling out user information does not check if entries are valid entries. Ex: you can put "blah blah" for gender and our system will accept it.
